

IRT Statement in Support of the LGBTQ Community – Spring, 2017

The Interfaith Round Table (IRT) holds that inclusion of all is a tenet of the Golden Rule every faith community continues to work to express in their lives and spiritual work together. Therefore, the IRT believes in the equality of all members of our society. Neither race, nor ethnicity, religion, gender or sexual orientation limit one's right to live a blessed life. We reject all derogatory and/or hostile attitudes, statements or actions aimed at LGBTQ individuals and communities, and we acknowledge the suffering experienced by members of the LGBTQ community through exclusion. We are committed to healing the pain and suffering experienced across the differing perspectives and differing beliefs that are held within our diverse spiritual communities.