

ANNOUNCEMENT AND POSTING

The Interfaith Round Table of Washtenaw County will be looking for new leadership as both George Lambrides and Susan King will be retiring in September, 2019. The current model is a co-directorship, each a 5-7 hour a week appointment, but both appointments could be combined into a 10-15 hour a week position. We are looking for people who value multi-religious engagement, have a commitment to creating a local culture of understanding and inclusion among religious identities, and can focus on taking this organization to the next level of growth and expansion. Additional information is available including a job description, an outline of duties and responsibilities, background information, and compensation. All applicants, including those looking to add some hours to their current responsibilities, will be considered. If interested, please contact Bryan Weinert (IRT Board Chair), 734-883-5720, bryancweinert@gmail.com.
Due date for applications: March 31, 2019
